An exhibition-mission at the heart of the intelligence services

Your mission, if you accept it... to dive into the heart of the services and put yourself in the shoes of an intelligence officer, this is the starting point of the exhibition. Managing a diplomatic crisis, collecting data, analysing information, writing notes and advising authorities... far from fantasies and clichés, the exhibition reveals the mechanisms and techniques at work in the contemporary intelligence world.

Co-produced with The Oligarchs Editions (producers of the French series “The Bureau”), the exhibition offers a unique experience, where the visitor becomes an actor in an espionage story. Narrative and immersive, it plunges the audience into a plausible plot by creating an interaction between fiction and reality. The exhibition reveals the mechanisms of intelligence without betraying its secrets.

HIGHLIGHTS

- 👁 Introduction to the intelligence services: familiarise yourself with the world of intelligence.
- 👁 At the heart of the intelligence services: welcome to the intelligence services offices, immersion in the mechanics of contemporary intelligence by using its tools.
- 👁 Analysis and special affairs: analysis with a view to drafting an intelligence note and highlighting major political, financial and defensive issues where the intelligence services have been involved.
